

AUSTRALASIAN JOURNAL OF REGIONAL STUDIES

Notes for Contributors

The Australasian Journal of Regional Studies (AJRS) is a refereed journal published by the Australia and New Zealand Regional Science Association International Inc. This non-profit organisation is dedicated to improving our understanding of regional economic and social conditions and development processes in both the Australasian region and the world at large through research and the discussion of ideas. We welcome contributed articles falling within the broad disciplinary scope of economics, geography, urban and regional planning, demography, environmental resource management, and related public policy.

Articles may be theoretical, philosophical, or empirical in spirit. For example, AJRS regularly publishes (a) cutting edge theoretical and empirical articles on the processes shaping regional economies; (b) analyses of current and emerging regional economic and social conditions often employing innovative data sets and statistical techniques; (c) analyses of short to medium term prognoses for regional development resulting from globalisation, changing macro- and micro-economic settings, or emergent technologies – among other things, and (d) penetrating conceptual, philosophical or ideological articles on the capacities of various tiers of government or communities to develop strategies to remedy or ameliorate regional problems identified through (a) to (c).

Manuscripts should be sent electronically to both Dr Sonya Glavac (sglavac@une.edu.au) and Professor Tony Sorensen (Tony.Sorensen@une.edu.au). Their postal address is Division of Geography and Planning, School of Behavioural, Cognitive and Social Science, University of New England, Armidale, NSW 2351, Australia.

Articles of up to about 6,000 words and length should be double spaced. They should also follow the formatting guidelines found below.

- (1) A cover page with the title of the paper; authors' names, postal and email addresses; and organisational affiliation. If there is more than one author, please specify the corresponding author to whom acknowledgement, queries or reports should be sent. Referees will not receive this page.
- (2) Page two must be headed by the article's title and an abstract of between 100-150 words. The latter will be self-contained and not use undefined abbreviations or references. After the abstract, please provide (i) not more than 5 key words, and (ii) any acknowledgements of, for example, research grants on which the article depends. Authors' names should not appear (the refereeing process is double-blind). The article's text immediately follows these preliminaries.
- (3) Tables and figures must be supplied on separate sheets and not be integrated into the main text. They can be attached to the end of the text or submitted as a separate document. All tables and figures should be mentioned in the text and numbered using Arabic numerals. Captions and legends should be grouped together in a list. Figures and line drawings should be of a quality suitable for printing and will not normally be redrawn by the publisher. Since the journal is published electronically, we can, however, accept colour figures. Please make sure that sources are given for tables and figures.
- (4) Footnotes should be avoided if possible.
- (5) Textual references should give the author's name, with year of publication in parentheses. Multiple publications by the same author in the same year should have (a), (b), etc. Appended
